MAR 16 '22
© CLE533158

DO YOU REMEMBER

A PLEA FOR THE SOLDIERS BONUS

By CHARLES MARSTON

Author of

"The Day You Went Away", "Think It Over Uncle Sam"

"For Every Light On Broadway There's An Aching Heart at Home" etc.

PUBLISHED BY

EX SERVICE MEN'S AID

476 Gates Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

M1646
. M

Do You Remember

Words and Music by
CHARLES MARSTON

Introduction
Marcia

ff

Do you re-mem-ber when the cry of war was in the air Our boys went ov-er there and they It's up to you what will you do to cheer them on their way We wrote this lit-tle song to nob-ly did their share Then they came home from o'er the foam to find their jobs were lost Why help the boys a - long And ev-'ry cent you give will help the boys be-yond a doubt They don't they give a bon - us to the boys who went a cross Just stood the test so do your best to help the sol - dier out So

Copyright 1922 by Charles Marston 476 Gates Ave. Bklyn N.Y.

help the boys a - long I'm sure you can't go wrong.
lis - ten while we plead Your help is what we need.

Chorus

They fought for you and fought for me out where the cannons roar Through the trenches in the dark where bullets kill and bark And now we find them sleeping on the benches in the park All they ask is the bon - us to keep their hum-ble home A lit - tle help will do Just buy a song or two Are they en - ti - tled to it folks its up to you.

WATCH FOR OUR LATEST SONG HITS

By CHARLES MARSTON

I NEVER THOUGHT I'D MISS YOU SO

(Dreamy Waltz Ballad)

CHORUS

By Charles Marston

I never thought I'd miss you so,
I didn't think I'd care.
It seems no matter where I go,
I see you smiling there.
I thought I'd soon learn to forget,
I've tried but all in vain.
I never thought I'd miss you so,
I want you back again.

I MISS YOU EVERY DAY

By Charles Marston

CHORUS

I miss you so on Monday, on Tuesday I feel blue,
On Wednesday night I don't feel right, just sit and think of you.
I crave for you on Thursday, Friday I'm in dismay,
On Saturday night and Sunday too, the skies appear so dark and blue.
Come back and bring your smile with you—I miss you every day.

WON'T THAT BE GRAND

New Fox Trot, by Charles Marston

Won't that be grand, dear, when the preacher man, dear,
Joins us hand in hand, dear, the wedding band you understand.
On your finger, dear, with a love sincere, tells of the joys
Found in a wedding tie bye and bye, you and I, dear.
I will build a home so nice and cosey, life will be rosey,
Smiles everywhere.
And when the stork comes 'round to our house some day,
With a little stranger, dear, to lead us down life's way,
We'll live in sweet loveland, won't that be grand?

PUBLISHED BY

ACME MUSIC COMPANY

476 Gates Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

553496